tN4 Gateway 483 Discontinued

The tN4 Gateway 483 has been discontinued and replaced by the tekmarNet[®] Internet Gateway 485. The 483 used an Apple Mac computer to host the gateway web pages. In the event that the Mac computer fails, it is recommend that the 483 be replaced with the 485 rather than replacing the Mac computer. The 485 is similar in cost to a new Mac Mini computer.

The 485 is compatible with tekmarNet products manufactured during and after December 2014. Please contact customer service to check for compatibility of products manufactured prior to this date.
